To whom it may concern,

MJ Smith Ground Preparation have been engaged by the National Parks and Wildlife Service for a variety of civil works encompassing gravel road maintenance, drainage and vegetation management within protected areas managed from the Kyogle work unit.

I can confirm that MJ Smith operate with best practise in terms of industry safety requirements and NPWS environmental requirements. MJ Smith are currently performing 40km of road side vegetation trimming throughout the World Heritage listed Border Ranges National Park in a timely and cost efficient manner that recognises rare and threatened plants and animals.
